Read the passage and answer the questions that follow.

When I was at college I used to spend my summer vacations in Dehra at my grandmother's place. I would leave the plains early in May and return late in July. Deoli was a small station about thirty miles from Dehra, it marked the beginning of the heavy jungles of the Indian Terai.
The train would reach Deoli at about five in the morning, when the station would be dimly lit with electric bulbs and oil-lamps, and the jungle across the railway tracks would just be visible in the faint light of dawn. Deoli had only one platform, an office for the station-master and a waiting room. The platform boasted of a tea stall, a fruit vendor, and a few stray dogs; not much else, because the train stopped there for only ten minutes before rushing on into the forests.
Why it stopped at Deoli, I don't know. Nothing ever happened there. Nobody got off the train and nobody got in. There were never any coolies on the platform. But the train would halt there a full ten minutes, and then a bell would sound, the guard would blow his whistle, and presently Deoli would be left behind and forgotten.
I used to wonder what happened in Deoli, behind the station walls. I always felt sorry for that lonely little platform, and for the place that nobody wanted to visit. I decided that one day I would get off the train at Deoli, and spend the day there, just to please the town.

I was eighteen, visiting my grandmother, and the night train stopped at Deoli. A girl came down the platform, selling baskets. It was a cold morning and the girl had a shawl thrown across her shoulder. Her feet were bare and her clothes were old, but she was a young girl, walking with poise and dignity.

Read the passage and answer the questions that follow.

When I was at college I used to spend my summer vacations in Dehra at my grandmother’s place. I would leave the plains early in May and return late in July. Deoli was a small station about thirty miles from Dehra, it marked the beginning of the heavy jungles of the Indian Terai.
The train would reach Deoli at about five in the morning, when the station would be dimly lit with electric bulbs and oil-lamps, and the jungle across the railway tracks would just be visible in the faint light of dawn. Deoli had only one platform, an office for the station-master and a waiting room. The platform boasted of a tea stall, a fruit vendor, and a few stray dogs; not much else, because the train stopped there for only ten minutes before rushing on into the forests.

Why it stopped at Deoli, I don't know. Nothing ever happened there. Nobody got off the train and nobody got in. There were never any coolies on the platform. But the train would halt there a full ten minutes, and then a bell would sound, the guard would blow his whistle, and presently Deoli would be left behind and forgotten.
I used to wonder what happened in Deoli, behind the station walls. I always felt sorry for that lonely little platform, and for the place that nobody wanted to visit. I decided that one day I would get off the train at Deoli, and spend the day there, just to please the town.
I was eighteen, visiting my grandmother, and the night train stopped at Deoli. A girl came down the platform, selling baskets. It was a cold morning and the girl had a shawl thrown across her shoulder. Her feet were bare and her clothes were old, but she was a young girl, walking with poise and dignity.

Read the passage and answer the questions that follow.

Thackeray reached Kittur along with a small British army force and a few of his officers. He thought that the very presence of the British on the outskirts of Kittur would terrorise the rulers and people of Kittur, and that they would lay down their arms. He was quite confident that he would be able to crush the revolt in no time. He ordered that tents be erected on the eastern side for the fighting forces, and a little away on the western slopes tents be put up for the family members of the officers who had accompanied them. During the afternoon and evening of 20th October, the British soldiers were busy making arrangements for these camps.

On the 21st morning, Thackeray sent his political assistants to Kittur fort to obtain a written assurance from all the important officers of Kittur rendering them answerable for the security of the treasury of Kittur. They, accordingly, met Sardar Gurusiddappa and other officers of Kittur and asked them to comply with the orders of Thackeray. They did not know that the people were in a defiant mood. The commanders of Kittur dismissed the orders as no documents could be signed without sanction from Rani Chennamma.

Thackeray was enraged and sent for the commander of the Horse Artillery, which was about 100 strong, and ordered him to rush his artillery into the Fort. When the Horse Artillery stormed into the fort, Sardar Gurusiddappa, who had kept his men on full alert, promptly commanded his men to repel and chase them away. The Kittur forces made a bold front and overpowered the British soldiers.

A few of the British had found refuge in some private residences, while some were hiding in their tents. The Kittur soldiers captured about forty persons and brought them to the palace. These included twelve children and a few women from the British officers' camp. When they were brought in the presence of the Rani, she ordered the soldiers to be imprisoned. For the women and children she had only gentleness, and admonished her soldiers for taking them into custody. At her orders, these women and children were taken inside the palace and given food and shelter She, then, sent word through a messenger to Thackeray that the British women and children were safe and could be taken back any time.

Seeing this noble gesture of the Rani, he was moved. He wanted to meet this gracious lady and talk to her. He even thought of trying to persuade her to enter into an agreement with the British to stop all hostilities in lieu of an inam (prize) of eleven villages. His offer was dismissed with a gesture of contempt. She had no wish to meet Thackeray who had come with an army to threaten Kittur into submission to British sovereignty.

आधुनिक युग ज्ञान-विज्ञान का युग है। ज्ञान-विज्ञान पर आधारित आधुनिकता के जिस युग में हम जी रहे हैं, उसमें सर्वाधिक क्षरण जिस चीज का हुआ वह है मनुष्य-मनुष्य के बीच की रागात्मक संवेदना का। भौतिकवादी विकास की आँधी में हमारे पास हमारी संवेदनाओं के लिए ही जगह नहीं है। मानवीय सम्बन्धों के आधार में निहित भावात्मक लगाव कमजोर पड़ता जा रहा है जिससे सम्बन्धों की मजबूती कमजोर पड़ती जा रही है। यंत्रों के विकास से उपजी यंत्र सभ्यता में मनुष्य भी यंत्रवत होता जा रहा है। मानवीय संवेदनाओं का ह्रास हो रहा है। गलाकाट प्रतिस्पर्धा हो रही है। सम्बन्धों का आधार ज्ञानात्मक हो गया है। स्वार्थ और हित पर आधारित सम्बन्ध विकसित हो रहे हैं। सम्बन्धों का आधार कमजोर होने से वे टिकाऊ या स्थायी नहीं हो रहे हैं। निष्ठाएँ रोज बदल रही हैं। ज्ञान की आँधी में प्रेम का आखर उड़ा जा रहा है। हमें ठहर कर यह सोचने की फुरसत नहीं है कि हम ज्ञान की आँधी में उड़कर कहाँ पहुँचेंगे।
ज्ञान-विज्ञान पर आधारित आधुनिक सभ्यता के खतरों को बीसवीं शताब्दी के बड़े रचनाकारों ने भाँप लिया था। 'कुरुक्षेत्र' खण्ड काव्य में दिनकर ने विज्ञान को वरदान के साथ अभिशाप भी मानते हुए, आधुनिक मनुष्य को विज्ञान के खतरों से आगाह किया था।
